"OLD BRISTOL" IS PRESENTED BY A MEMBER OF D. A. R.

Mrs. Franklin P. Stow, of Langhorne, Reads Paper Before Bucks Chapter

AT THE USILTON HOME

Then Known as Buckingham, Bristol Was Site for One of Earliest Villages

When members of Bucks County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the residence of Mrs. James E. Usilton, Bristol R. D. 2, on Monday, they heard the following paper on "Old Bristol" read by Mrs. Franklin P. Stow, of Langhorne:

"OLD BRISTOL"

Among the earliest projects of our colonial ancestors, who settled on the land bordering the Delaware River, was the selection of the more desirable sites for the erection of villages. One of these, which claimed their first attention, was that upon the western bank of the Delaware, north of Neshaminy Creek—then called the town of Buckingham.

The story of Old Bristol is a subject that embraces the history of a town that was once our county's capitol and the only seaport in it. It enjoys the distinction of being the second oldest borough in the state and wherein many interesting events have transpired in the past 250 years.

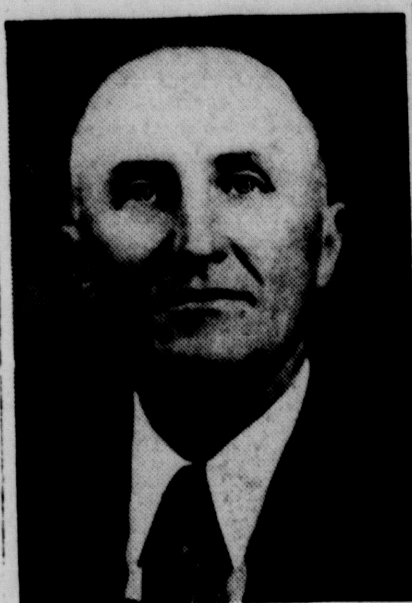

It is an error to suppose that Friends were the first to settle our county. Years before Penn's arrival a few Dutch, Swedes and Finns were on the Delaware between Falls and the Schuylkill, living in the crudest of log cabins, by hunting, fishing and trading with the Indians. A few English settled on the river in Falls Township in 1678, on land granted them by the Duke of York. One of the earliest English travelers down the Delaware was George Fox, the eminent Friend in the fall of 1672 on his way from Long Island to Maryland. He and his friends were taken across the river in Indian canoes and the horses swam.

In 1681, Samuel Clift obtained from the Provincial Government, New York, a grant for two hundred and sixty-two acres, including the site of Bristol and soon after became a resident here. Clift also established the ferry between Bristol and Burlington. The ferry had

Five Weeks' Illness Is Fatal To Mrs. P. Mazzanti

Mrs. Rose Mazzanti, 441 Logan street, died last evening in the Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia, after an illness of five weeks. She had been a resident of Bristol for most of her entire life. Mrs. Mazzanti, who was 47 years of age, is survived by her husband, Pasquale, and the following children: Mrs. Benny Poe, Mrs. Paul Cervellone and Pasquale, Jr., also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Giano, of Bristol; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Peter Brescia, Bristol; Mrs. John Petruccio, Wheatland; Mrs. Nick Amiel, Fallington; Mrs. Ralph Asterelli, Salvatore and Anthony Giano, Philadelphia; Louis Giano, Burlington, N. J.; George Giano, Morrisville, and Charles Giano, Mt. Union.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral Monday at nine a. m. from her late residence. Solemn Requiem Mass will take place in St. Ann's R. C. Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mark's Cemetery will be in charge of Vincent D. Galzerano, funeral director.

Eugene T. Rosenberger

Eugene T. Rosenberger, of Milford Township, the Republican nominee for Bucks County Register of Wills, was born March 13, 1902, on the 72-acre farm near Quakertown which he now occupies and which has been in his family since his grandfather bought it three generations ago.

He was son of Thomas and Ida Bachensio Rosenberger. Educated in the public schools of Milford Township, he decided early in life to devote himself to farming.

In 1924 he married a Milford Township girl, Grace Neidig, and they have four children: Thomas, Donald, Ralph and Lorraine. The daughter is taking pre-medical college work at Mt. Union, Ohio. The family attends the Lutheran Church at Spinnerstown, where Mr. Rosenberger has been organist for 26 years.

Mr. Rosenberger is a charter member of the Great Swamp Grange and of the Volunteer Fire Company of Milford Township. A lifelong Republican, he has served his community as auditor, tax collector and school director. He has been a Republican committeeman for 18 years, as well as a member of the Loyal Republican, Buckingham. He has served on several special Republican campaign fund committees.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEAINED BY SCRIBES

With more than 300 persons in attendance, Quakertown Lodge, No. 512 F. and A. M., a few nights ago celebrated its 75th anniversary. Featuring the event were a dinner and an address by Right Worshipful Grand Master Richard A. Kern, dean of the medical school of Temple University and who recently received his discharge from the Navy. The worshipful master of the local lodge, Clarence Fehnel, announced Dr. Distler, of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, will be the speaker at the meeting next month, and that Rev. Hugh Kemper, Easton, will speak at the meeting in December.

The local lodge was constituted on July 25, 1872, when it had fifteen members. Since then the membership has grown to over 300. The original meeting place of the lodge was in the Sons of Herman Building. Its present meeting place is an attractive building across the street from the local post office.

Public School News: STUDENTS VISIT PLACES OF INTEREST

Hulmeville - Middletown Group Tours Bucks Historic Spots

60 MAKE THE TOUR

HULMEVILLE, Oct. 23.—Journeying by school bus throughout parts of Bucks County on Tuesday, pupils of grades four, five and six of Hulmeville - Middletown public school visited several points of interest.

The girls and boys enjoyed a stop at the site of the walking purchase at Wrightstown; visited the county jail and Mercer museum at Doylestown; the observation tower at Bowman's Hill and other parts of Washington Crossing state park; then went to "Pennsbury" for a trip through the restored manor house of William Penn.

Principal Frank Binder and Miss Frances Benton accompanied the group of 60.

There was a half session of school yesterday, with teachers participating in a meeting of high school and elementary instructors at Langhorne high school building in the afternoon.

A roller skating party is scheduled for grades four, five and six and their guests at the Hulmeville park rink this evening.

On Tuesday evening next in the William Penn Fire Company station the Hulmeville - Middletown Parent - Teacher Association will conduct a Halloween party; and at the school on Thursday, October 30th, a Halloween party will be held, with parade in each room, and prizes for costumes.

DIES OF INJURIES

Another Bucks county automobile fatality was added to the rapidly growing list of highway deaths Monday afternoon when Gilbert Stout, 18, of Baptistown, N. J., died in the Easton Hospital. He was injured on Saturday afternoon on the Revere-Upper Black Eddy road, when his car overturned on a small curve, throwing him clear of the wreckage into the highway where he was picked up unconscious and removed to the Easton Hospital. Stout's injuries consisted of a fractured skull, compound fracture of the left leg, lacerations of the lips and cheeks, shock and multiple contusions and abrasions.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Defense Secretary Forrestal, Commerce Secretary Harriman and former Secretary of State Byrnes were added by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky yesterday to his list of "warmongers." Mr. Vishinsky made his attack before the United Nations General Assembly's Political Committee in supporting a Russian resolution to curb the "warmongering" press. He attributed differences between the Soviet Union and the United States largely to what he called "the irresistible drive to world domination" by American "reactionary circles," an accusation also made by Andrei A. Zhdanov of the Politburo before the Communist international meeting in Warsaw last month.

Russia and Czechoslovakia boycotted the Political Committee's subgroup planning a "Little Assembly," giving rise to reports that the entire Soviet bloc would boycott that body if it were established.

Mr. Forrestal disclosed before a Senate committee that laws were being drafted to assure immediate total mobilization of the nation's resources in the event of a new war. Mr. Byrnes declared in a speech in Columbia, S. C., that there could be no Big Four agreement on a German peace treaty unless Russia had her way and that the three other

BUCKS COUNTY TAXES

Thanks to a long period of businesslike administration under Republican Party principles, the tax rate in Bucks County is one of the low rates among the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania. The rate is 5 mills, divided as follows: 4.5 mills for general county purposes, and .5 mills for the institutional district.

The most recent report on county taxes showed ten counties with a rate two times or more larger than the Bucks County figure. Only a handful have less. Most are from 10 to 90 per cent higher.

A tax rate has two yardsticks—one is the tax itself, and the other is the assessment rate. It is simple enough to have a low tax rate with a high assessment. Bucks County, however, has both a low tax rate and a low assessment rate.

Part of the story of a low tax rate, of course, is careful spending of the revenues which it brings in. Wasting public moneys is easy. Watching diligently to see that every dollar spent gives a dollar in value to the public is not so easy; but it has been the Republican method in Bucks County.

The other part of the story of low taxes is the prudent use of the money which comes in from non-tax sources. Every county receives revenues of this sort. The more wisely these are expended, the less taxes are needed to round out the cost of government.

Forty per cent of the costs of the Bucks county government come from non-tax sources. This means that the county's taxpayers are called upon for only 60 per cent of the cost of their county administration. This is a very low percentage.

Non-tax revenues come into the county treasury from a great variety of sources. The county, for example, is in business in various ways. The better managed these businesses are, the bigger the earnings. Departments of the county government are earning a total of $115,100 which otherwise would have to be raised in taxes. The sale of farm and dairy products raised at county institutions is earning another $33,000—which again is a saving to the taxpayers. Sale of property, supplies and equipment is earning still another $40,000.

Many miscellaneous items produce smaller amounts—fines and forfeitures, grants and gifts, payments by relatives for institutional inmates, etc.

HOSPITAL BENEFITS UNDER TERMS OF WILL

Mrs. Clara H. Connard's Will Disposes of Estate Valued at $36,500

BEQUESTS ARE MADE

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Clara H. Connard, who was found dead in her home, here, Oct. 5, remembered the Doylestown Emergency Hospital and neighbors and friends in disposing of her $36,500 estate.

In her will, which was probated in the Register of Wills office, here, Mrs. Connard gave $500 to the Doylestown Village Improvement Association, stipulating that it be used for the benefit of the local hospital. A $200 trust fund was created to take care of a cemetery lot.

Christian and Helen Myers, who are neighbors, were bequeathed her house and lot which are located at the corner of North Clinton and Locust streets. They were also given the household goods and her jewelry.

Louisa V. Hudson, Los Angeles, Calif., and Florence Duffy, 3813 Walnut street, Baltimore, Md., were each given $1,000.

Beneficiaries who received $500 legacies include Dr. Allen H. Moore, local physician; Raymond Trauger and wife, Louise Carhart; Edgar and Anna Young and Bernard Rehl and wife, all of town, and Mary Garis, Colwyn, Delaware county.

In a codicil, which was executed February 3, this year, the testatrix bequeathed five shares of stock of the Doylestown Trust Company to Christian and Helen Myers.

The will, which named Christian Myers and Raymond Trauger as executors, was written Feb. 3, 1943. Real estate was valued at $7500 and the personal estate at $29,000.

Honor Miss Gillies At Delightful Gift Shower

A surprise personal shower was arranged on Monday evening in honor of Miss Blanche Gillies, East Circle.

The party was given by Miss Rhoda Saxton at the home of Mrs. John Fairchild, Taft street.

The room was decorated with white streamers, which formed a bow at the chandelier.

A social evening was enjoyed, and refreshments served.

The invited guests: Mrs. Walter Hendricks, Mrs. William Black, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Jr., Mrs. Carl A. Nelson, Mrs. Henry Vandallen, Mrs. Fred Featherstone, Mrs. Angus Gillies, Sr., Mrs. George Genshauer, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Norman Morris, Mrs. William Gillies, Mrs. George Vandenberg, and Miss Elizabeth Gillies.

PEOPLE TO VOTE ON STATE DEBT

Want Debt Ceiling in Pennsylvania Raised to $50,000,000

IS NOW AT $1,000,000

HARRISBURG, Oct. 23.—(INS)—Voters will be given an opportunity November 4 to approve an amendment to the State Constitution proposing a debt ceiling of $50,000,000 instead of $1,000,000.

The Pennsylvania Bar Association pointed out that "there has been so little discussion about the amendment that many voters will not be properly enlightened to ballot thereon."

W. Walter Braham, chairman of the Committee on Pennsylvania Constitution, explained that under the present constitution, the state may incur no indebtedness in excess of $1,000,000 without approval of two successive general assemblies and an election of the voters.

The amendment was proposed "because of the decreased value of money and the frequency of circumstances bringing about deficiencies in current revenue."

22 Class Members Gather For A Business Meeting

Twenty-two members were present at the monthly meeting of the Bible Class of Bristol Methodist Church School, taught by Miss Annie Heritage, Tuesday evening.

A social hour followed the business meeting, with refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Sutton, Mrs. Harold Mitchener and Mrs. Serrill Douglas.

APPOINT OFFICERS

ANDALUSIA, Oct. 23.—At a meeting of the Younger People's Group of the Church of the Redeemer, Sunday evening, Joyce Brady was appointed president and Doris Fricas, treasurer. The program and refreshment committees were named, and other officers and committees will be announced later. The group held a "doggie" roast on the lawn with 15 present. They sang songs, told stories, and played games.

FIREMEN ACTIVE

Bristol firemen responded to an alarm at 3:39 a. m. to extinguish a tree fire at Radcliffe street and Green Lane. No property damage was caused. Yesterday afternoon firemen were ordered to the Bristol high school to water the grass on the football field.

TONSILECTOMIES

At Harriman Hospital, Michael Klein, South Langhorne, had his tonsils removed Tuesday, while Wednesday, Dorothy Stickle, Chestnut street, and Thomas Breslin, Corson street, underwent similar operations there.

TRIP TO WEST POINT

The Traffic Club of Bristol high school enjoyed a bus trip to West Point, N. Y., on Tuesday. About 35 made the journey.

The program presented by Philadelphia Dairy Council was entitled "A Peel, A Peel and Appeal with Mrs. Pennyfeather."

The group discussed activities for the year, and visited the classrooms where they viewed results of a study of "Pennsylvania Week." Refreshments were served.

NINE BANDS TO TAKE PART IN PARADE HERE

Annual Halloween Event Eliciting Much Interest Throughout Area

DATE, OCTOBER 30TH

Nine bands and bugle corps have been invited to participate in the annual Halloween parade, of which five have accepted to date. The parade, which will be held Thursday, October 30, is being sponsored by the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion.

Solicitation of contributions to defray the expenses will begin in earnest this week, according to Charles Rathke, parade marshal. So far contributions have been light, but Rathke believes that with the solid support of the citizenry in this contribution drive the parade will be a huge success.

Plans for prizes are already being formulated and prize awards will be given for: best dressed organization in both comic and fancy divisions; best floats in both divisions; individual prizes for best in both divisions and special prizes for musical organizations. The full prize schedule will be decided upon this week and made known public as soon as possible.

As yet the route of the parade has not been decided upon.

ORDER PENNA. SALT AND THE R. F. C. TO PAY FOR DAMAGES

$10,000 for Harm to Vegetation On Club Grounds at Andalusia

FLUORINE IS BLAMED

That Chemical Used at Plant in Process of Making Hypochloric Acid

By International News Service
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co. and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. today were under orders to pay the Philadelphia Gun Club $10,000 for damages to vegetation on its grounds at Andalusia, Bucks County.

The decision was handed down by a jury of six men and six women under Judge George G. Parry in Common Pleas Court No. 1.

Philip Sadtler, consulting chemist for Samuel P. Sadtler & Son Association, testified that he was "unqualifiedly of the opinion that the death and damage to the vegetation on the club property was caused solely by fluorine."

The chemical was being used at the plant in the process of making hypochloric acid used in the manufacture of aviation gasoline during the war.

Charles J. Biddle, of Andalusia, a club member, testified that the fumes from the plant killed and damaged vegetation in a large area in Bucks County, including prize trees on his own estate. (Biddle has not lodged any personal court action for damage to his own property, however.)

Biddle styled himself as a "semi-expert" in the care of trees. He explained that he personally "sprayed, pruned and fed" trees on his estate and supervised the caretakers in tending the grounds of his home. "Trees get old and die," he said, "but never had a general devastation of the country-side been witnessed before the operation of the plant in April, 1943."

Experts summoned by the defense testified that in their professional opinions, fumes expelled from the high smoke stack would have been diluted to such an extent by the time they traveled the one-half mile to the club grounds that they would have lost enough potency and become harmless to any vegetation.

RFC was made an added defendant because it financed the plant for the government to be operated by the salt company.

Frolic Here Amid Pretty Halloween Decorations

The Bristol Business Girls' Club held a meeting Tuesday evening in the form of a masquerade party in the Travel Club home. The room was decorated with oak leaves and corn stalks, with ghosts to complete the Halloween scene.

Prizes were awarded for the prettiest, ugliest, most original and funniest costumes. Game prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Paul E. Patton and Miss Lily Waldron reported having 50 articles for the club's needlework guild project. Twenty articles of clothing were given to needy families during the past two months.

After a brief meeting a surprise bridal shower was tendered Mrs. John Zessen. Refreshments were served buffet style, with Mrs. Zessen cutting the cake.

Notice to Advertisers

Due to changed conditions in the publication of a daily newspaper the Courier finds it absolutely necessary to set an advertising "dead-line" and hereafter reserves the right to reject advertising copy received later than seven days previous to the date of publication.

This means that copy for advertising to be inserted in the Thursday issue of the Courier must be in the Courier office not later than noon of the Thursday previous to publication.

The Courier may also find it necessary to reject copy ordered for a certain day due to a shortage of newsprint. The supply of newsprint which the Courier has on hand sometimes does not warrant accepting copy for a certain date as it might on that date make necessary the printing of a paper of more pages than the stock of newsprint on hand warrants.

We trust our advertisers will co-operate with us and they can rest assured that the Courier will do all that is possible. But we do not want advertisers to feel discriminated against if it is found necessary to reject copy for the date ordered.

WALTER LYMAN SANBORN

Death Monday evening took one of the best known newspapermen in the Philadelphia area. Walter Lyman Sanborn, publisher of the North Penn Reporter at Lansdale, had been active in his chosen field for 32 years except for a brief period of time.

Mr. Sanborn was an independent and fearless writer and enjoyed nothing more than a good scrap with what he thought were interests inimical to what he considered right.

In addition to his newspaper activities he also acted as secretary and treasurer of the Newspaper Publishers' Association of Bucks and Montgomery Counties, serving in this capacity since the organization of the group. During World War I, Mr. Sanborn became interested in protecting the interests of the publishers of the smaller newspapers in the Bucks-Montgomery district and with the Association as an instrument purchased newspaper co-operatively for the membership. He continued in this activity until his death.

He was past president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association in which he also took an active part and his counsel was often sought by newspapermen affiliated with this association.

Mr. Sanborn was a good friend and loyal supporter of the publishers of the smaller newspapers and he never ceased to fight for their interests. He was plain spoken, truthful and courageous. When Walter Sanborn made a statement he meant what he said and said what he meant.

HOSPITAL VISITORS

Many hospitals throughout the nation are revising visiting hours. In several cities afternoon calls have been eliminated entirely, while patients are limited to two visitors an evening. Previously busy wards had been closed to outsiders during the afternoon. The movement is expected to become general.

Attending physicians agree their efforts are hampered, and in many cases recovery delayed, by many-meaning friends and relatives who flock to the bedside of patients at every opportunity. These persons can do nothing to help a sick person.

Hospital visitors should be limited to close relatives, and these should not come too often.

Bucks County Taxes

Farmarked for roadwork, the county will receive about $100,000 this year as its share of the State's liquid fuels tax. County taxes are producing an estimated $594,087 this year. The difference between this sum and the total expected county government receipts of $1,047,939, is made up out of the non-tax revenues summarized above.

It was pointed out above that a county government can create the illusion of a low tax rate by pushing assessments high; and that Bucks County has resisted this temptation. There is only one other way by which a county could hold a low-tax while being wasteful and extravagant—that would be to run into debt. But Bucks County has wiped out its debts, not piled up new ones. It has no floating debt, and its net bonded debt is less than $28,000—which would have been paid off long ago except that the bonds can't be called until 1952.

The financial record of the Republican administration at the Bucks County Courthouse is one of efficiency and service at an unusually low cost to the taxpayers.

If that is the way you want your county's affairs conducted, there is something you can do about in on November 4.

Go to the polls on election day, and vote to continue the Republican administration in charge of the county government. Put a crossmark after the word "Republican" where it appears on the ballot in heavy black type, thus Boss: We can't pay more wages for no more work without boosting prices. House buyers are squawking already.

Union: Borrow the dough from the bank. That will give us more purchasing power. It will make Nuttown hum.

Boss: Ho, hum!

So Nuttown goes on strike. The boss starts losing money. He decides to go to the People's Savings Bank of Nuttown. The cashier was known as "Cold Cash."

Boss: Lend me a million bucks so I can boost our men $5.00 a day and not raise prices.

Cashier: What! You want to boost your expenses for no more goods produced and not raise prices. You're nutty. Whose money would we lend you? It belongs to the Nuts. Why should we lend Nuttown's savings so you can boost Nuttown's wages? If the People's Savings Bank goes bust, do you think the people will settle on the ground that we had paid them their savings as wages?

Boss: But you can't go bust. The government guarantees you.

Cashier: That's a hot one. Suppose all factories and banks did what you want us to do?

Boss: But the other factories aren't that foolish. We rely on the good sense of our competitors.

Cashier: Suppose you sell the union the bright idea of not striking for wages you can't pay without raising prices and losing customers.

Boss: You sell 'em!

Cashier: No sale.

Boss: Tell you what, You borrow the million from the government. They've got a lot of dough.

Cashier: That's a joke, son! All they don't have is two hundred and sixty billion bucks. That's all! It's all the dough everybody has saved since Columbus brought over the first Nut. And who does the government owe it to? Why, to the Nuts. Why should the government borrow money from the Nuts to put it in their pay envelopes?

Boss: Well, let the government print the dough. All governments are doing it. It's quite the fashion.

Cashier: Yeah, but every dollar they print sucks value out of every payroll dollar. It's like watering milk. Do your men want water or milk? The government can print money but it can't print milk. It can't even print a cow. And that's no bull!

The union had listened to all this hi-falutin' talk.

Union: You're both screwy. You don't understand the new finance.

However, we'll compromise by working 30 hours instead of 40 for the same pay per day. That won't cost you a dime!

So they compromised. But 30 hours built fewer houses and houses got so high the Nuttown folks couldn't buy 'em. And the stock flew around as busy as all get out with no place to land!

So the union sent a committee to Nuttington on the Potomac to see Big Chief Spenderast. They said: "Chief, if you don't give us a housing subsidy, you'll lose the Nuttown vote." The Big Chief grunted: "Plenty wampum, Vote 'um."

Well, sir, that subsidy solved everything—that is, except housing. Do you wonder they're all nuts in Nuttown?

Most important of the new agencies created during the 1947 session were the three-member Tax Equalization Board, directed to fix state school subsidies on the basis of need, and the Flood Control and Tax Study Commissions.

Duff must appoint the entire Tax Equalization Board, four of 12 members on the Flood Control Agency and two of six members on the fiscal survey group.

The other members will be composed of legislators.

The five-man Housing Board has been idle for months.

When terms expired, no reappointments were made.

Duff also has yet to establish his "good will" commission which he visualized as a reply to the Legislature's rejection of a proposed Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Leo A. Luttringer, Jr., editor of "Game News," published by the State Game Commission, recently celebrated his 25th consecutive year with the agency.

He joined the Commission in 1922 as a messenger.

In addition to the magazine, Luttringer now handles the Commission's public relations.

Pennsylvania's production of "fuel energy" exceeded that of any state, according to the Planning Board.

Heat energy produced in one year from coal, natural gas and petroleum products was sufficient to raise 15 billion tons of water from the freezing point to the boiling point, the Board reported.

"More than one-sixth of all power that moves our trains, lights our cities and provides enormous power requirements of the busiest nation in the world comes from the mines, wells and water falls of the Keystone State," the Board asserted.

The Democratic State Committee has injected itself into the campaign of John E. Peters, Democrat-backed Independent Republican for Mayor of Harrisburg.

Secretary J. Warren Mickle claimed the fight had state-wide significance because it was taking place in the ballwick of Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and involved his handpicked majority choice Claude R. Robins.

Mickle pledged the full support of the State Committee in the contest.

Peters, who lost the GOP nomination by 3500 votes, was endorsed by the Democratic City Committee after their candidate withdrew.

The GOP has an approximate four to one registration majority in the city.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

WOOL FILLED QUILTS, luxurious or economical, are winter joys. The Snellenburg Bed Coverings Dept. is displaying two good numbers. An $18.95 rayon satin beauty is not only suitable for your own guest rooms, but will make a fine fall and winter wedding present or Christmas gift. The quilt is elaborately stitched, measures 72 x 84 inches cut size, it comes in rich plain colors, some numbers coming with a different color on each side. An economical wool-filled quilt in a pretty floral chintz, with rose, blue or wine predominating, costs but $7.95. It also measures 72 x 84 inches cut size. Nice. (2nd fl.)

YOU CAN make your own frocks, and at what a saving! The Snellenburg Yard goods Dept. has always been famous for its great variety of reliable weaves at fair prices, even in the war years. Just now there are 52 to 54 inch trico-weave rayon jerseys at only $1.47 a yard. These come in luscious plain colors. About two and a half yards should make a dress. Add it up for yourself! Also, there are displayed 35 inch rayon jersey prints at $1.29 to $1.79 a yard. (2nd fl.)

BUDGETED WARDROBES should include at least three hats per season, two of which may be inexpensive. All three should, of course, be smart. I am delighted that I have found a chic wool felt Breton sailor for you, at a mere $3.75. This Breton is simply trimmed with a natural color ostrich pompon and a smart veil. It is a hat that will go well with suits, coats or frocks. It is extremely flattering to all types of faces. You may have it in black, brown or gray. It is to be found in the First Floor Millinery Dept. at Snellenburg, where there are many good styles costing from $1.95 to $9.75 upward. (1st fl.)

NICEST I'VE SEEN for the money are some 29c genuine English-ribbed, mercerized cotton anklets for school girls. They're the kind the girls like, turn-over cuffs and all, not to mention the bright, clear shades of pink, brown, red, navy, light blue, green, white, etc. These socks are especially well shaped. Sizes from 9 to 10 1/2. From three to six pairs would be an excellent investment. Order them with cord and plug. Each is attractive (or see them in) Snellenburgs. (1st fl.)

ELECTRIC HEATERS can cut both fuel and doctor bills. They give heat only when and where needed. The Snellenburg Housewares Dept. is offering three versions of the excellent portable fan "Arvin" heater with guard front, which works on AC or DC current, at $9.80, $11.95, and $13.30. The heaters are complete with cord and plug. Each is attractively finished in cream enamel and chrome. (2nd fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

WALTER LYMAN SANBORN

Death Monday evening took one of the best known newspapermen in the Philadelphia area.
Walter Lyman Sanborn, publisher of the North Penn Reporter at Lansdale, had been active in his chosen field for 32 years except for a brief period of time.

Mr. Sanborn was an independent and fearless writer and enjoyed nothing more than a good scrap with what he thought were interests inimical to what he considered right.

In addition to his newspaper activities he also acted as secretary and treasurer of the Newspaper Publishers' Association of Bucks and Montgomery Counties, serving in this capacity since the organization of the group.
During World War I, Mr.
Sanborn became interested in protecting the interests of the publishers of the smaller newspapers in the Bucks-Montgomery district and with the Association as an instrument purchased newsprint co-operatively for the membership. He continued in this activity until his death.

He was past president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association in which he also took an active part and his counsel was often sought by newspapermen affiliated with this association.

Mr. Sanborn was a good friend and loyal supporter of the publishers of the smaller newspapers and he never ceased to fight for their interests. He was plain spoken, truthful and courageous. When Walter Sanborn made a statement he meant what he said and said what he meant.

HOSPITAL VISITORS

Many hospitals throughout the nation are revising visiting hours.
In several cities afternoon calls have been eliminated entirely, while patients are limited to two visitors an evening. Previously baby wards had been closed to outsiders during the afternoon.
The movement is expected to become general.

Attending physicians agree their efforts are hampered, and in many cases recovery delayed, by well-meaning friends and relatives who flock to the bedside of patients at every opportunity.
These persons can do nothing to help a sick person.

Hospital visitors should be limited to close relatives, and these should not come too often.

Bucks County Taxes

Earmarked for roadwork, the county will receive about $100,000 this year as its share of the State's liquid fuels tax.

County taxes are producing an estimated $594,087 this year.
The difference between this sum and the total expected county government receipts of $1,047,939, is made up out of the non-tax revenues summarized above.

It was pointed out above that a county government can create the illusion of a low tax rate by pushing assessments high; and that Bucks County has resisted this temptation. There is only one other way by which a county could hold a low-tax while being wasteful and extravagant—that would be to run into debt.
But Bucks County has wiped out its debts, not piled up new ones.
It has no floating debt, and its net bonded debt is less than $28,000—which would have been paid off long ago except that the bonds can't be called until 1952.

The financial record of the Republican administration at the Bucks County Courthouse is one of efficiency and service at an unusually low cost to the taxpayers.

If that is the way you want your county's affairs conducted,
there is something you can do about it on November 4.

Go to the polls on election day, and vote to continue the Republican administration in charge of the county government.

Put a crossmark after the word "Republican" where it appears on the ballot in heavy black type, thus

REPUBLICAN X

Inside Your Congress

Boss: We can't pay more wages for no more work without boosting prices. House buyers are squawking already.

Union: Borrow the dough from the bank. That will give us more purchasing power. It will make Nuttun hum.

Boss: Ho, hum!

Union: Nuts!

So Nuttun goes on strike. The boss starts losing money. He decides to go to the People's Savings Bank of Nuttun. The cashier was known as "old Cash."

Boss: Lend me a million bucks so I can boost our men $5.00 a day and not raise prices.

Cashier: What! You want to boost your expenses for no more goods produced and not raise prices? You're nutty. Whose money would we lend you? It belongs to the Nuts. Why should we lend Nuttun's savings so you can boost Nuttun's wages? If the People's Savings Bank goes bust, do you think the people will settle on the ground that we had paid them their savings as wages?

Boss: But you can't go bust. The government guarantees you.

Cashier: That's a hot one. Suppose all factories and banks did what you want us to do?

Boss: But the other factories aren't that foolish. We rely on the good sense of our competitors.

Cashier: Suppose you sell the union the bright idea of not striking for wages you can't pay without raising prices and losing customers?

Boss: You sell 'em!

Cashier: No sale.

Boss: Tell you what. You borrow the million from the government.
They've got a lot of dough.

Cashier: That's a joke, son! All they don't have is two hundred and sixty billion bucks. That's all! It's all the dough everybody has saved since Columbus brought over the first Nut.

Union: And who does the government owe it to? Why, to the Nuts. Why should the government borrow money from the Nuts to put it in their pay envelopes?

Boss: Well, let the government print the dough. All governments are doing it. It's quite the fashion.

Cashier: Yeah, but every dollar they print sucks value out of every payroll dollar. It's like watering milk. Do your men want water or milk? The government can print money but it can't print milk. It can't even print a cow. And that's no bull!

The union had listened to all this hi-falutin' talk.

Union: You're both screwy. You don't understand this new finance.
However, we'll compromise by working 30 hours instead of 40 for the same pay per day. That won't cost you a dime!

So they compromised. But 30 hours built fever houses and houses got so high the Nuttun folks couldn't buy 'em. And the stork flew around as busy as all get out with no place to land!

So the union sent a committee to Nuttun - on - the - Potomac to see Big Chief Spendergast. They said:
"Chief, if you don't give us a housing subsidy, you'll lose the Nuttun vote." The Big Chief grunted:
"Plenty wampum. Vote 'um!"

Well, sir, that subsidy solved everything—everything that is except housing. Do you wonder they're all nuts in Nuttun?

Most important of the new agencies created during the 1947 session were the three-member Tax Equalization Board, directed to fix state school subsidies on the basis of need, and the Flood Control and Tax Study Commissions. . . . Duff must appoint the entire Tax Equalization Board, four of 12 members on the Flood Control Agency and two of six members on the fiscal survey group. . . . The other members will be composed of legislators. . . . The five-man Housing Board has been idle for months. . . . When terms expired, no reappointments were made. . . . Duff also has yet to establish his "good will" commission which he visualized as a reply to the Legislature's rejection of a proposed Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Leo A. Luttringer Jr., editor of "Game News," published by the State Game Commission, recently celebrated his 25th consecutive year with the agency. . . . He joined the Commission in 1922 as a messenger.

In addition to the magazine
Luttringer now handles the Commission's public relations.

Pennsylvania's production of "fuel energy" exceeded that of any state, according to the Planning Board. . . . Heat energy produced in one year from coal, natural gas and petroleum products was sufficient to raise 15 billion tons of water from the freezing point to the boiling point, the Board reported. . . .
"More than one-sixth of all power that moves our trains, lights our cities and provides enormous power requirements of the busiest nation
in the world comes from the mines, wells and water falls of the Keystone State," the Board asserted.

The Democratic State Committee has injected itself into the campaign of John E. Peters, Democratic-backed Independent Republican for Mayor of Harrisburg. . . . Secretary J. Warren Mickle claimed the fight had state-wide significance because it was taking place in the bailiwick of Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and involved his handpicked mayoralty choice, Claude R. Robins. . . . Mickle pledged the full support of the State Committee in the contest. . . .
Peters, who lost the GOP nomination by 3500 votes, was endorsed by the Democratic City Committee
after their candidate withdrew. . . .
The GOP has an approximate four to one registration majority in the city.

Firman in Mayfair.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

WOOL FILLED
QUILTS, luxurious or economical, are winter
joys. The Snellenburg Bed Coverings Dept. is displaying two good numbers. An $18.95
rayon satin beauty is not only suitable for your own guest rooms, but will make a fine fall and winter wedding present or Christmas gift.
The quilt is elaborately stitched, measures 72 x 84 inches cut size, it comes in rich plain colors, some numbers coming with a different color on each side. An economical wool-filled quilt in a pretty floral chintz, with rose, blue or wine predominating, costs but $7.95. It also measures 72 x 84 inches cut size.
Nice. (2nd fl.)

YOU CAN make your own frocks, and at what a saving! The Snellen-burg Yard goods Department has always been famous for its great variety of reliable weaves at fair prices, even in the war years. Just now there are 52 to 54 inch tri-weave rayon jerseys at only $1.47 a yard. These come in luscious plain colors.
About two and a half yards should make a dress. Add it up for yourselves! Also, there are displayed 39 inch rayon jersey prints at $1.29
to $1.79 a yard. (2nd fl.)

BUDGETED WARD-
ROBES should include
at least three hats per season, two of which must be inexpensive. All three should, of course, be smart. I am delighted that I have found a chic wool felt Breton sailor for you, at a mere $3.75. This Breton is simply trimmed with a natural color ostrich pompadour and a smart veil. It is a hat that will go well with suits, coats or frocks. It is extremely flattering to all types of faces. You may have it in black, brown or gray. It is to be found in the First Floor Millinery Dept. at Snellen-burg, where there are many good styles costing from $1.95 to $6.75
upward. (1st fl.)

NICEST I'VE SEEN for the money are some 39c genuine English-ribbed, mercerized cotton anklets for school girls. They're the kind the girls like, turn-over cuffs and all. Not to mention their bright, clear shades of pink, brown, red, navy, light blue, green, white,
etc. These socks are especially well shaped. Sizes from 9 to 10½. From current, at $9.80, $11.95, and three to six pairs would be an excellent investment. Order them with cord and plug. Each is attractive (or see them in) Snellen-
burg. (1st fl.)

ELECTRIC HEATERS
can cut both fuel and doctor bills. They give heat only when and where needed. The Snellenburg House-
wares Dept. is offering three versions of the excellent fan "Arvin" heater with guard front, which works on AC or DC current, at $9.80, $11.95, and
three to six pairs would be an excellent investment. Order them with cord and plug. Each is attractive (or see them in) Snellen-
burg. (1st fl.)

GET YOURS before the first snow or the cool
rains—fur-trimmed
black velveteen galoshes!
I've found some dandies for you, at the especially low price of $5.95 because the galoshes have impenetrable irregularities which do not interfere with their durability. You'll like the flannel lining, the snug, long tongues. Made to accommodate Cuban heels. Find them in the Snellenburg Shoe Dept.
(1st fl.)

MAGIC NIGHT—Hallowe'en. Was ever such a thrill as "dressing up"? Can't you remember, when you were three, ten, even sixteen,
the purple evenings, the dark nights, the lighted grinning pumpkins in neighbors' windows, and little you "begging" on the doorsteps? Making the costumes was work then, but now mothers need only go to Snellenburg Toy-town to find a grand array of children's complete costumes, priced at but $1.98 to $4.98. Sizes range from 4 to 14 years. The costumes are crazy, funny, pretty or even glamorous. I saw cowboy, Indian, squaw, fireman and policeman suits. There are Walt Disney character costumes, fictional character costumes, designs from history,
black cats, witches—everything!
My, what fun! (4th fl.)

Home-Made "Revolver" Taken from Lad Only 14

The inventive genius of a 14-year-old Bristol boy is being applied in the wrong direction, but perhaps he is not aware of it.

A man walking on Jefferson avenue yesterday had his attention attracted to a lad apparently shooting into the canal. He went to investigate and found that the lad had a home-made "death-dealing" contraption.

The boy had fashioned out of wood the stock of a revolver with a properly designed grip. A piece of gas pipe was fashioned for the barrel of the gun, while a piece of flexible steel substituted for the hammer. A .22 short was being used, and police say that the instrument would kill. They also say that the lad was in danger of the bullet exploding in his face.

The man talked to the lad and asked to see the gun. Then he declined to give it back to the boy who at once leaped on his bicycle and rode off in haste. The gun was turned over to the police.

Families Invited To A Party Held by Cub Pack

CROYDON, Oct. 23 — The Cub Pack of Troop No. 69 held a Halloween party in the Scout cabin on Tuesday evening. The Cub's families were also invited, and the children were masked. A grand march was held and prizes awarded for the best and funniest costumes. The evening was spent in apple bobbing, peanut scramble and playing "pin the tail on the donkey." The guests were served cider, cake, apples and candy. A violin solo was rendered by "Billy" Grindle.

A pack meeting was held later, by Cub Master A. Litz. Wolf badges were presented to: William Lawson, William Frantz, Gene Gigger, Norman Hughes, Donald Ritter and Kenneth Riel. David Sperling received his Lion badge. The Gold Arrow award was received by Edward Brodecki, Robert Shettline and Fred Muller. Den Four was presented with a trophy for having won all baseball games during the summer. It also received the den flag for having the most parents present.

CROYDON

Mrs. Elmer Bennett entertained several guests at her home on Oct. 15th. Refreshments were served to: Mrs. William Bennett, Sr., Mrs. Herman Pluma, Sr., Mrs. George Hunter, Miss Dorothy Bennett, Mrs. Edward Feehan, Mrs. Herman Pluma, Jr., Mrs. Edward Curry, Mrs. Joseph Tullback, Mrs. James Dransfield, Miss June Bennett, Croydon, and Mrs. Charles Perkins, Philadelphia.

Daniel Lynch, Blackwood, N. J., is spending four days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett. Harry Achuff, Philadelphia, is spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. Albert S. Harper, Sr.

Miss Mildred Mutch has returned home after having her tonsils removed in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., on Sunday.

The Chit-Chat Girls Club met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Madden.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Coyne and children, Helene, Patricia and Timothy, Jr., and Earl Mohr, Jr., attended the funeral of John Coyne Philadelphia, on Wednesday.

NEWPORTVILLE

Fire Chief Raymond McNulty and assistant J. E. Headley, of the Newportville Fire Co., No. 1, issue warnings to residents and gunners of the danger of fire due to the long dry spell. Residents should be especially careful how and where leaves are burned, they advise.

Walter Bowker, Jr., has been under the doctor's care.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Steps to provide Warrington township with a youth center were taken at the meeting of Warrington Junior Women's Club at the home of Mrs. Henry W. Gargus.

During the meeting, which was attended by about 40 members and guests the need was discussed.

A committee composed of Mrs. Carl Hickey, Mrs. Thomas B. Igoe and Mrs. Marion Breinhart was appointed to contact leaders of similar organizations throughout the county for the purposes of getting ideas. This committee, it is expected, will give its report at the next meeting.

Irwin E. Moyer has been installed as noble grand of Quakertown Lodge, No. 714, I. O. O. F. He succeeds Earl George.

Other officers installed by District Deputy Grand Master Lyle Wismer and his staff from Victory Lodge, Sellersville, include William Kusche, vice grand; Charles George, treasurer; Calvin B. Smith, financial secretary; Richard Hedrick, chaplain; Charles George, r.s.g.e.; outside guard, Herbert George, and Earl George, r.s.v.g.

Calvin Smith will serve his 25th year as financial secretary.

Co. Seat's "Take" From Meters in 5 Weeks, $2105

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 23.—A "take" of $2105.32 from the parking meters recently installed in the borough is announced by borough council for the past five weeks.

The record shows that the parking meter "take" is operating at the income rate of about $400 per week or about $20,800 a year if business continues throughout the 12 months at the current rate.

Council members are also informed that the business men as a whole like the parking meter system and one-side parking on Main street.

A check of some of the meters and their location will be made in the near future with the idea of re-locating some meters and moving some others.

Police Chief Felix R. Gowan stated that all meters had been installed, a total of 326 all told in the borough. He also said that the total police fines of $529 for the past month include approximately $400 in parking violation fines.

"Movie" Projector and Screen Donated to Bucks County Home

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 23 — The Soroptimist Club of Bucks County has purchased a motion picture projector and screen to present to the Bucks County Home. These will provide many hours of enjoyment for women and men who make their home there.

President Katharine S. Keane, of Newtown, the president at a dinner-meeting of the Soroptimists on Monday evening, read a letter from Dr. S. P. McMillan, superintendent of the home, and Miss Agnes MacGuire, head nurse.

The Soroptimists, who have been giving Christmas parties at the home ever since their organization, felt that a projector and screen would prove one of the most beneficial gifts. Hope was expressed that other organizations will purchase additional films.

Mrs. Lyon Smith, of near Gardenville, who has a collection of more than 400 dolls from all parts of the world, exhibited 50 dolls. She also showed about 25 or 30 fans which also are collectors' items.

Mrs. Smith gave details concerning the history of the dolls with reference to the customs of the countries the dolls represent.

Announcement was made that Miss Verna McClary, past president of the local Soroptimists and a regional organizer, has organized a new club in Sussex county, New York.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Lehman Strauss
Pastor, Calvary Baptist Church

Text: Psalm 120:1—"In my distress I cried unto the Lord, and He heard me."

O God, in the midst of national and international distress, we pray that men in high places might turn unto Thee. We know that when we call upon Thee in our distress Thou wilt hear us, because Thou art always attentive to the cry of all who call upon Thy Name. Give the leaders in our great land a sense of their need of Thee. We pray for a revival of interest in things spiritual and for a mighty awakening in the hearts of men. Hear and answer our prayer for Jesus' sake. Amen.

dale, Mrs. Gillies remained until Monday.

ST. ANN'S PLAYS POOR GAME, BUT WINS, 12 TO 0

Although it was victorious, 12-0 St. Ann's A. A. played its worst ball of the season last night on the Bristol high school field in the final arc light game. The Lower Bucks County A. C. team was the victim.

The "Saints" appeared to be just a bunch of sand-lotters and they fumbled opportunity after opportunity to score touchdowns against the visiting team. In all, the Wood streeters should have racked up at least six touchdowns.

On three different occasions, the Purple and Gold were within two yards of a touchdown only to have a mis-play or fumble happen. On one occasion, Lelinski crossed the final chalk mark but the play was recalled and St. Ann's penalized for off-sides. Before the four downs were up, a fumble took place and two passes were not gotten off for in 18-yard loss.

The winners registered 16 first downs to Lower Bucks' 8, but when in touchdown territory, the Bristol boys were complete failures.

The most sensational run of the game took place in the final quarter when Leo Fiorelli skirted left end for a gain and then broke loose to run 45 yards for a touchdown. Spencer's try for the extra point was wide of the uprights.

The "Saints" had taken a 6-0 lead in the first session when Tony Calone recovered a fumble on the Lower Bucks' 15-yard line. After Lelinski was stopped, Fiorelli hit the line for six yards and on the next play, Nate Chichiletti sprinted around left end and bored his way to the touchdown.

The Lower Bucks team could do little against the St. Ann's line and practically on all occasions had to kick. Twice they kicked from beyond their goal-line.

It was those long spirals booted by Al Monti that helped keep the score as low as it was. Monti's boots, high and long, were averaging over 50 yards and kept the St. Ann's backs busy carrying the ball towards the Bucks' goal.

Most of the playing was done in the invader's territory with Lower Bucks only threatening in the last period when they got as far as the St. Ann's 15 from their 45. Two passes aided by a 15-yard piling-on penalty advanced the ball to that line. But the "Saints" held and received the ball on downs when four long passes failed. On the first play, Chichiletti fumbled and Sterling recovered for Bucks. Again, their passing attack was a fizzle and St. Ann's got the ball.

"Jim" Spencer, Stan Lelinski and Leo Fiorelli gained the most yardage for the winners with Spencer intercepting two passes and on one ran to the 10-yard line before he was spilt.

The entire St. Ann's line held up brilliantly, yielding only one first down.

Monti and Tom Phillips played fine ball in the Lower Bucks backfield with the Mansmann brothers playing the best in the line.

St. Ann's will play on Leedom's field, Sunday, meeting the Willow Grove Vets.

much to do with the attraction of travel in this direction—in those days and a few years later this was an important factor in the consideration of a site for the market town of Bristol. The original code of regulations remained in force for many years—"Single foot passengers—six pence; two persons at the same time—four pence, and three or more—three pence each; a single horse and rider—one shilling and greater number—nine pence; a single ox—one shilling three pence and any greater number—one shilling; sheep—two pence each; hogs (alive) six pence; dead, three pence; four wheeled carriages with two horses and one person—five shillings; two wheeled carriages with a single horse and one person—two shillings and six pence"; and in every case the rates were increased one-half after 10 o'clock at night.

Bristol encountered the trials and tribulations of a village for twenty-three years before assuming the responsibilities of a corporate life in 1729.

Bristol was the first seat of justice in Bucks County. From 1703 to 1725, the county seat was then moved to Newtown and in 1812 was moved to Doylestown—each removal placing the court house and public offices nearer the center of population.

An old institution of Bristol was the mills on Mill street which are now in ruins. They were built in 1701 by Samuel Carpenter. A large trade was done in shipping kindred corn meal to the southern states and West Indies. At one time the mills were owned by John and Arthur Dorrance who later made their fortunes on Campbell's Soup.

Among the provisions of the first charter of Bristol was one authorizing the holding of two annual fairs—two days in May and three in October—in such place or places as the Burgess from time to time may appoint. These fairs—a great feature of social life of that day—were attended by all classes—the great majority bent on having a frolic. Horse racing—drinking—gambling and stealing prevailed to an alarming extent. The young men came with their sweethearts behind them, their coats tied behind the saddle in which was a pair of thin soled shoes for dancing. The girls wore two pairs of stockings—the inner pair were white and the outer ones of colored yarns to protect them from getting soiled. Previous to dancing the outer ones were taken off. Jigs, Virginia reels, hip saws and the grand old dance huggin' snug were the most prominent. Negro slaves were allowed to attend the last day of each fair, when they came together in droves and had a grand jubilee. These fairs continued for three-quarters of a century—they were finally abolished in 1796.

The Burton Family have been prominent in Bristol from the first settlement—Their ancestors, John and Mary Sotcher, were married at Pottsville October 16, 1701. That was the eve of Penn's return to England, and it is the only marriage he is known to have attended in America. The certificate is signed by some of the leading men of the Province, including Penn, his wife and daughter. Letitia Penn made the bride a present of a chest of drawers that cost seven pounds.

For many years Bristol was a celebrated watering place. As early as 1722 the Bath Springs obtained celebrity for the medicinal qualities of their water, and at that early day it was much frequented by invalids—some coming from abroad. It became a noted resort and many distinguished people spent several weeks here in the summer. Following the Revolutionary War and down to 1812 it was the principal watering place in America. The Delaware House, then known as George the Second and later as the Fountain House was crowded with guests during the summer season. The railroad had not yet made its appearance and travel was either on the river or in stage coaches. The daily appearance of the old stage wagons, the arrival and departure of the guests, the travel to and from Bath Springs, the daily landing of the river boats gave the old town the appearance of prosperity. Two race courses, one on the Badger Farm below Bristol and the other at Bath Springs greatly enlivened the life of the Community.

The St James' Episcopal Church was built about 1711, several years before the Friends Meeting House was finished—The Episcopal Church was used as a barn and completely ruined during the Revolutionary War. The Meeting House was a hospital.

Those days were stirring and eventful ones in the quiet little town of Bristol. The inhabitants lived in momentary fear of attack by the enemy. Radcliffe street was alive with soldiers at most hours of the day and night coming down to the George the Second Hotel. Thus the days passed until the arrival of that memorable Christmas night, when Washington, by his intrepid assault on the Hessians at Trenton, kindled anew the fires of patriotism and instilled renewed hopes into the American hearts.

On the river just above Bristol in 1784 one of the biggest seed producing establishments in the world was started. It is known today as the D Landreth Seed Co. The most improved methods of cultivation have been adopted and the farm is one of the finest in Pennsylvania.

As far back as 1785, there was a ship yard on Mill Creek, where a man named William Davis built and repaired vessels.

The first Post Office in Bucks Co. was established in 1790 at Bristol. The Farmers' Bank, the first in the county, was organized in 1814.

Major Lenox, who represented the government of the U. S. at the Court of St. James, was a resident of Bristol for many years. His mansion was built in 1816, and after his death it was occupied by Miss Sara Lukens Keene, whose hospitality led many persons of distinction of this country and Europe to the door—among them Joseph Bonaparte, ex-king of Spain, and several foreign diplomats.

There lived in Bristol about the year 1818, a colored man known as Dick Shad. He was a runaway slave from Virginia. Believing himself to be safe in his new surroundings, he married and started a home of his own. His principal business was buying and selling shad—hence his name. It was a sad day for Dick when his old master visited Bristol and recognized him. After much deliberation, the Colonel accepted a sum of money that Dick's friends had gotten together and gave him his freedom papers. Richard had a son 14 years old. Colonel Russell said they would be worth $1500.00 to him in Virginia. Dick's wife, on hearing all this, packed up the boy's clothes and told him to run for his life. He never returned to Bristol and his parents never heard from him.

February 21, 1861 was a day long to be remembered in Bristol. President elect Abraham Lincoln had left his western home a few days before, and started on his long journey to Washington by New York Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Baltimore. The news reached Bristol that Mr. Lincoln was in New York and would pass through here in the afternoon en route to Philadelphia. A large crowd gathered at the station and as the train stopped at the depot they all cheered for the new president. As the tall form of Lincoln appeared in the doorway, Frank Woodington bounded up the steps of the car and grasping the President's hand said: "Mr. Lincoln, when you get to be President, enforce the laws." Lincoln gave Woodington's hand a hearty shake and said: "That I will try to do, my friend." Woodington was followed by a colored man and lastly by Gilbert Tomlinson. The train was moving but Lincoln stood in the doorway waving his hand to the cheering crowd until he disappeared from view.

Thus we have heard a few stories of Bucks County's old town.

HOME ROOM PROGRAM IS TO BE STRESSED

Morrisville School Faculty Working Out New Ideas

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 23 — One part of the public school program which is receiving special attention this year in Morrisville High School is that of the home room.

The home room has not been working so well in the past, but recognizing the possibilities of a good home room organization, the faculty determined to improve their work along this line this year.

One of the greatest benefits to be derived from a good home room program is that of the opportunity which the home room provides for teacher guidance of the home room students. The home room provides an opportunity for the teacher to know the students better. By knowing and understanding the pupils better, the teacher is better able to give guidance to the class and to individuals as the need arises.

The program for improvement of the home room started with a meeting of all home room teachers soon after the opening of school in September. The problem was discussed and some preliminary plans were made to attack at once. During the first week in October an assembly program held in the high school auditorium presented to the student body in general the new plan for the home room.

Anyone who might visit the high school now would be able to observe the beginnings of a good home room program. All home room teachers have enlisted in the plan in an enthusiastic manner. Even with such a short period of trial some excellent progress has been made and some interesting programs have been produced.

One of the best programs so far is that of home room 8-2, a class consisting mostly of boys. This group expressed interest in cheer leading. They wanted to learn the words of the cheer leaders, and wanted to actually do some cheer leading. Mrs. Antmore, home room teacher of the class, secured the help of Mary Sakaly, captain of the home school cheer leaders group, to work with the class on their idea. The project is working out very well and from this single idea many more possibilities for other interesting programs have begun to develop.

Among other ideas worked on by the various home rooms are these: discussion about the desirable features of an assembly program; duties of class officers; qualifications of class officers; hearing reports of the Student Council representatives in the homeroom about the business of the Student Council; studying how to make correct introductions; a discussion on debatable social habits, such as chewing gum in classes, and the like; etiquette in the school and home, featured by class discussion, movies and dramatization; study of the simple rules of parliamentary law; actual elections of class officers; discussion and study of Morrisville High School handbook; planning and preparing for an actual assembly program; panel discussion on the whys and wherefores, the likes and dislikes—spot light on clothes—with the boys versus the girls; home room social; quiz programs on High School Handbook; spelling bee; quiz program on sports; a sports review of 1947; discussion of the 1947 World Series; radio program of a World Series game; a game featuring the learning and application of football rules; reports by class members on hobbies.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL PLAY FINAL GAME UNDER THE LIGHTS

Bristol High will play its final night game of the season tomorrow night, meeting Vineland High on the latter's field. Kickoff will take place at 8:15 o'clock.

The Bunnies played their best game of the season last Friday night when they held the strong Abington High to an 18-6 score. Coach Harry McClister and his minions are still seeking their first win of the season.

Coach McClister is pleased with the showing of his rejuvenated backfield and expects his boys to make a fine showing against the Jersey team whose record shows three victories and one defeat. Camden High is the only team to beat Vineland this season.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
"Take Pen in Hand"
This column has been running for so long that its readers, in towns like ours all over the country, are beginning to "take pen in hand" and write us what they think. Some of them take me over the coals for what I say—like the column I ran on planting alfalfa. Others write, "I liked your column yesterday, but..." All of them have different points of view. From where I sit, that's the way it should be. Everybody's entitled to an opinion—and it's those very differences, and friendly criticism, that make for tolerance and better understanding—whether it's ideas on planting alfalfa or choosing between beer and cider. The more folks air their differences right out in public, with a neighborly respect for the other person's liberties and point of view, the closer we are to the American principle of individual freedom—whether it's in a choice of crops or beverages.
